The Program Evaluation Prism: Using Statistical Methods to Discover Patterns Martin Lee Abbott

This book is a comprehensive treatment of correlation/regression techniques and using SPSS for interpretation of findings. Striking a balance between detailed coverage and approachability, this book provides a thorough treatment of the elements of regression and how they can be used with real research problems in program evaluation.

The author begins with a basic introduction to evaluation methodology, and its ability to recognize embedded patterns of meaning in research data. Subsequent chapters explore the statistical tools that can be applied by researchers and evaluators irrespective of the design that was used to generate this data.

Topics of coverage include: correlation, single predictor regression, multiple correlation, part and partial correlation, detection of extreme scores, multiple regression, regression with continuous predictors, coding of categorical data, regression with categorical predictors, methods for entering predictors in multiple regression, and interaction in multiple regression.

Each chapter is presented in the same comprehensive format: an introduction to the topic, followed by a discussion of its primary elements, illustrations of the data through numerous tables and figures, SPSS procedures for designing the analysis, SPSS output of the analysis, and guidance on how to interpret findings from the analyses. Discover Note and Research Steps sections illustrate how using statistical processes can unveil unobserved patterns and assist readers with identifying such patterns in their own data.

Real-world analyses are used throughout the book, utilizing meaningful social issues as a catalyst for teaching statistical procedures, and a related Web site features additional data sets, solutions, and research projects for readers.

From reader reviews:

Christopher Hill:

The actual book The Program Evaluation Prism: Using Statistical Methods to Discover Patterns will bring one to the new experience of reading some sort of book. The author style to explain the idea is very unique. In case you try to find new book to study, this book very ideal to you. The book The Program Evaluation Prism: Using Statistical Methods to Discover Patterns is much recommended to you to learn. You can also get the e-book from official web site, so you can more easily to read the book.

Matthew Fry:

Do you have something that you prefer such as book? The reserve lovers usually prefer to pick book like comic, quick story and the biggest you are novel. Now, why not striving The Program Evaluation Prism: Using Statistical Methods to Discover Patterns that give your pleasure preference will be satisfied by simply reading this book. Reading habit all over the world can be said as the means for people to know world a great deal better than how they react towards the world. It can't be explained constantly that reading addiction only for the geeky particular person but for all of you who wants to end up being success person. So, for all you who want to start studying as your good habit, you are able to pick The Program Evaluation Prism: Using Statistical Methods to Discover Patterns become your own personal starter.

Arlene Miller:

You can spend your free time to study this book this publication. This The Program Evaluation Prism: Using Statistical Methods to Discover Patterns is simple to bring you can read it in the area, in the beach, train and also soon. If you did not have got much space to bring the actual printed book, you can buy the particular e-book. It is make you better to read it. You can save the actual book in your smart phone.
