A rhetoric that bridges the gap between the writing students already do in social media and other nonacademic contexts and the writing they're expected to do in college?all within a strong rhetorical framework.

Built on the keystones of rhetoric, Everyone's an Author provides a strong foundation for authoring in the digital age: in college essays, but also on Twitter; in print, but also online; with words, but also with sound, video, and images. It shows students that the rhetorical skills they already use in social media, in their home and religious communities, at work and in other nonacademic contexts are the same ones they'll need to succeed in college. Examples and readings drawn from across multiple media and dealing with topics that matter to students today make this a book that everyone who takes first-year writing will relate to.

Wendy Clark:

As a student exactly feel bored to be able to reading. If their teacher expected them to go to the library or even make summary for some book, they are complained. Just small students that has reading's soul or real their hobby. They just do what the educator want, like asked to go to the library. They go to at this time there but nothing reading seriously. Any students feel that reading through is not important, boring and can't see colorful pictures on there. Yeah, it is to get complicated. Book is very important for yourself. As we know that on this period of time, many ways to get whatever we would like. Likewise word says, ways to reach Chinese's country. So, this Everyone's an Author (Second Edition) can make you sense more interested to read.
